Terri Kelly Moyers

“Terri Kelly Moyers says she cannot recall a time when she wanted to be anything other than an artist. Since she drew animals as a child, she had consistently directed most of her time and energy toward pursuing that goal. She grew up in Calgary, Alberta, Canada with her early studies at the Alberta College of Art.

Terri Kelly Moyers is an ardent advocate of “en plein air” painting. She is convinced that working outdoors directly from the scene is the best means of growing as a painter, learning to see and interpret the ever-changing atmosphere and light. She says, "I put things down I think are beautiful and that move me. I want to share what I see with other people and help them have the same pleasure I have. Fifty artists could set up in front of the same scene, and they each would paint different pictures. Each person interprets and edits things in a different way, infusing his or her work with a different quality or emotion."

Moyers has reason to be pleased with herself as a woman in a male-dominated field. Her many honors include the Frederic Remington Award at the Prix de West show at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City and the Nona Jean Hulsey Rumsey Buyer’s Choice Award at the Prix de West Show. She and her artist husband reside in Sante Fe, New Mexico.
