III. Obligations and Responsibilities of the Contract Holder

- A. You agree to pay all charges when due and to comply with and abide by these contract terms and conditions, the University General Information Catalog, the University Apartments Living Guide, the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System, the University Handbook of Operating Procedures and all other University rules and regulations governing your conduct as a student, all applicable state and federal criminal and civil laws, rules, regulations including but not limited to those governing the use or possession of alcoholic beverages, gambling, narcotics, controlled substances and firearms, including all university rules regarding the carrying and storage of handguns by license holders, which may now or in the future come into effect (individually and collectively, the "University Regulations").
- B. By signing the contract, you acknowledge that rates or fees are subject to change by legislative action, or otherwise, including changes to University regulations, affecting housing contracts. Such changes affecting the Contract are officially announced and/or posted. The announcement or posting constitutes actual notice and they become effective and binding immediately.
- C. You agree that your assigned unit will be used only as your primary and personal living space. You agree not to sell, sublease or assign this contract and/or your assigned space, or your contract may be terminated.
- D. Any actions by the contract holder, guests or family members found by The University to be in violation of the University Apartment's Contracts, Rules and Regulations of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System, regulations in The University General Information Catalog, the University Apartment's Living Guide or any other University rules and regulations that disrupt the use and enjoyment of the apartments by other residents, may subject you to University disciplinary action and may require you to change residence with University Apartments or you may be required to withdraw from housing.
- E. Should you, a guest or family member violate any of the provisions of this contract, University Housing and Dining may, in the future, refuse to provide a contract to you. Disregard for the rights, responsibilities, and duties of others, as well as the creation of circumstances which could jeopardize life, limb or property, are conditions which are not acceptable in the University Apartments and may be cause for disciplinary action or contract termination. We may exclude from the apartment community, guests or others who are not obeying applicable laws, are violating this contract or any other Apartment rules, or are causing a disturbance among residents, neighbors, visitors, or staff.
- F. You agree to keep your contract and student information updated by use of official University websites. Failure to provide this information can result in cancellation and charges made pursuant to your contract.
- G. If you fail to maintain any of the academic eligibility requirements, you must notify the University Apartments staff in writing within three (3) days. You will be permitted to remain in the apartment up to 30 days from the date in which you no longer met eligibility requirements. During this time you will be responsible for paying a full month's rate and utilities or paying the rate for the number of days the apartment is occupied, whichever is greater.

- H. If you are suspended or expelled by the University, including enforced scholastic withdrawal, you must file a written vacancy notice within 48 hours of such a change. Documentation is required. You must move out within 15 days of suspension or the date in which the suspension takes effect, whichever comes first, and pay for a minimum of 15 days rate and utility charges or through the end of the semester, whichever is greater. The deposit will be refunded, less a $35 processing fee and any applicable charges.
- I. Contract terms: All contracts will terminate on June 30th of each year or the last day of the month in which you graduate, whichever comes first, regardless of when move-in occurs. All renewal contracts will be for a term of one year, unless requested otherwise with 60 days' notice.
- J. State law prohibits using state property for private enterprise. No concession or business of any type may be operated by anyone in the unit.

IV. Payments

- A. You must pay a $500 security deposit at the time you accept an offer to reserve your apartment.
- B. A new Contract Holder must submit the first monthly payment by midnight (12 a.m. CST) the day you accept an apartment. A current Contract Holder is not required to make an advance payment.
- C. Monthly charges are due on the first of the month, without demand or notification, and late after the fifth of the month. If payment is received after the fifth of the month, or if it is less than the full amount due, a late fee of $50 will be charged to your account, and a bar may be placed against your registration, degree conferment, and official transcripts.
- D. Water and wastewater are included as part of the monthly charges for all University Apartments. Gas is included in the monthly charge for Colorado. The electricity supplied through The University and used through the tenth day of the previous month will be billed to all Colorado and Gateway contract holders as part of the monthly charges. Contract holders in Brackenridge Apartments are responsible for making individual arrangements for gas and electricity with the respective utility companies. The University has the right to restrict water use in the interests of conservation.
- E. As a courtesy, a billing reminder will be emailed to the email address on file with The University. All remittances must be made payable to The University of Texas at Austin. Payments may be submitted electronically through the UT Direct system, or delivered in person to the Bursar's Office. Failure to receive a billing reminder email does not relieve you of the responsibility for paying by the deadline.
- F. All charges on a statement are considered final unless a written appeal is filed with the University Apartments within 30 days of the billing date.
- G. If you fail to pay on a timely basis, this contract may be terminated and you may be subject to eviction proceedings and denial of a future contract. You agree to pay all expenses incurred by the University in collecting the total amounts due under this Contract, including collection fees up to a maximum of 33-1/3% of the amount due, attorney's fees, court costs, and other costs.

V. Cancellation; Vacating

- B. After Occupancy

- a. All contract actions require 60 days written, advanced notice, hereafter referred to as 'proper notice.'
- b. Vacancy notice must be completed and filed with the University Housing staff 60 days prior to termination of the contract.
- c. Completion of a 12 month stay and proper notice is required in order to be eligible to vacate without penalty. Vacating after 12 months occupancy without proper notice will result in a re-letting fee of 100% of your monthly rate.
- d. Early contract termination at the end of a semester will be available, without penalty, if you are graduating or completing all academic requirements as confirmed by written documentation from the Dean of your college, with proper notice. Vacating without proper notice will result in a re-letting fee of 100% of your monthly rate.
- e. Vacating before 12 months occupancy, with proper notice and for any reason other than graduating or completing all academic requirements, will result in a re-letting fee of 100% of the remaining month's rate and utility charges.
- f. Vacating before 12 months occupancy, without proper notice, will result in a re-letting fee of 100% of the remaining month's rate and utility charges and an early contract termination charge equal to two months' rate or a prorated daily rate charge from the date of notice until the unit is re-leased, whichever is less.
- g. Failure to move out or file vacancy notice at the end of the contract period or the last day of the month in which you graduate, whichever comes first, results in a charge of 100% of one month's rate and utilities charges plus $50 per day for each day you are occupying the apartment past the notice to vacate date. You may request a move out extension with a minimum of one week prior to the move out date indicated on your notice to vacate. Extensions must be approved in advance by the University Housing staff. Please speak with a member of the University Housing staff regarding requests for move out extensions.
- h. Failure to move out on or before 5 p.m. on the exact date required under the contract (e.g. the end of the contract term or the date listed on the vacancy notice) you must pay 100% of one month's rate and utilities charges plus $50 per day for each day you are occupying the apartment past the notice to vacate date. You agree to indemnify The University and/or prospective residents for damages incurred, including lost income, storage, lodging expenses, and attorney's fees, if such damages are incurred.
- i. Failure to follow established check-out procedures will result in a $25.00 improper check-out charge.
- j. The deposit will be applied to any charges for damage to the premises and other applicable charges after move-out at the end of the contract period.
- k. Your deposit will be refunded to you, less applicable charges or fees, on your University account in accordance with the contract within 30 days after the end of the contract period. The University will send a final itemized statement to the email address on file with the University.

VI. Occupancy

- A. If you are a current Contract Holder, your renewal contract will become effective at 12:01 a.m. on the beginning date of the contract. If you are a new Contract Holder, your contract will become effective at 9:00 a.m. on the beginning date of the contract. Renewal notices are emailed out before the end of the contract period each year to current contract holders. You must either renew your contract by the offer expiration date or submit a vacancy notice no later than 60 days before your vacancy date. University Apartments staff will make every effort to notify you of your renewal by email. However, it is your responsibility to meet the renewal deadline date whether you receive a notice or not.

- B. If you accept your key or place any personal belongings in the apartment, you will be liable for your contract. Billing continues until the key is returned after vacating. Failure to return keys to the office at time of departure will result in charges for labor and materials to replace the door and/or mailbox lock.
- C. You may renew the contract without being registered for the summer session provided you will be a student and a Contract Holder during the following fall semester and provided you occupy the apartment during the summer. Failure to register for the following fall semester may result in your contract being cancelled and you being required to move out by your contract end date.
- D. You must notify the University Housing staff within 48 hours of any occupancy changes in your apartment.
- E. Due to high demand for apartments and limited resources, unit transfers are only considered due to documented serious and extenuating circumstances. If a transfer is approved, there is a $300 transfer fee which will be charged to your account at the time the transfer is approved. Acceptance will require that you file a written vacancy notice and completion of the check-out from the unit being vacated.
- F. Contract holders or family members may not reside in more than one apartment, hold more than one contract, or have keys to more than one apartment.
- G. Occupancy is limited to a maximum stay of five years, whether living in the Apartments as a Contract Holder or family member. Exceptions for academic study may be granted on a short-term basis. All requests for exceptions must be made 60 days prior to the contract termination date and pre-approved by a member of the University Housing staff.
- H. Contract holders who occupy their assigned space for less than 7 months of the contract year are subject to contract cancellation. The maximum amount of time that a contract holder may be on extended leave from their space is 5 months per contract year.
